

VANDENBERG SAYS LONDON VICTORY IS A CERTAINTY

Michigan Senator On Visit To Topeka, Says Governor Has Already Stopped Roosevelt

PINCHOT IS A GUEST

Vandenberg To Speak During
Campaign in the Interest
Of the Candidate

TOPEKA, July 29—Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg, Republican of Michigan, says that President Roosevelt has been "stopped." The Senator has put his talents as a speaker at the disposal of Governor Alf M. Landon.

Senator Vandenberg warmly endorsed the Republican Presidential nominee. He said a real battle lay ahead, but that he expected "the same upsurge of common sentiment and common confidence which dictated Governor Landon's nomination to dictate his election."

Former Governor Gifford Pinchot of Pennsylvania and Mrs. Pinchot arrived last night to go over campaign plans with the Governor. Pinchot, who has worn the Progressive label himself for 30 years, emphatically declared his support of Governor Landon. Meanwhile, it was learned that plans for Mr. Landon's first Eastern trip have progressed to the point of fixing August 24 for his appearance at Chautauqua, N. Y.

His speech at West Middlesex, Pa., presumably will be two days or so earlier and his speech at Buffalo a day or two later. His tentative plan is to spend two full days at each place, to spread his speeches and give more time for talking to Republican leaders and delegations.

Governor Landon and Senator Vandenberg spent several hours together, including a luncheon in the Executive Mansion at which Senator Arthur Capper and former Senator Henry J. Allen of Kansas were also present. Vandenberg, who might have been nominated for President if Landon had not been and who declined the offer of second place on the ticket, said he was prepared to do everything he could in behalf of the Landon-Knox ticket.

"I'll do everything they want me to do—up to the limit of my physical capacity," he said.

"You said at Cleveland that the job the Republican Party had on its hands was to stop Roosevelt," Senator Vandenberg was reminded by a newspaper man. "Do you think you are going to stop him?"

"Yes," the Senator replied emphatically. "He is stopped right now."

The Senator denounced the Roosevelt Administration for "carpet-bagging." He said Mr. Roosevelt's drafting of Frank Murphy, High Commissioner to the Philippines, as his candidate for Democratic nominee for Governor of Michigan, was only the latest illustration of the desire of the New Deal to interfere with the government of the States. He recalled an early attempt of the Roosevelt Administration to obtain passage of a law permitting the naming of an outsider as Governor of Hawaii. He also mentioned the drafting of Governor Herbert H. Lehman of New York for a third term.

"These, like the Federal officials pouring out from Washington into every section of the country, were an indication of the dictatorial tendencies of President Roosevelt," he said.

"This pleasant idea that Governors of States should be chosen by the President at Washington is an indication of the willingness of the Roosevelt regime to run the whole show," he said. "It is a species of carpet-bag government to which the Jeffersonian Democrats are opposed and which Southern Democrats were born to oppose. It is a confession of willingness to tend to everything for us and relieve us in Michigan of all home responsibility by having the President send four or five lieutenants and decide what the State ticket shall be."

Former Governor and Mrs. Pinchot arrived late this afternoon and went to the Governor's house for dinner. Afterward, they sat on the front porch with him and talked. Newspapersmen went out to the house shortly after 8 o'clock.

"I am for Governor Landon for two reasons," Mr. Pinchot said. "The first is Alf Landon. The second is Franklin Roosevelt."

He said Governor Landon is "a practical man."

FEAR 15 OF CREW OF 22 LOST WHEN BARGE SINKS

S. S. Material Service, 246-Ft.
Freight Barge, Plunges
To Bottom

ONLY 7 ACCOUNTED FOR

CHICAGO, Ill., July 29—Fifteen of a crew of 22 were feared lost today, when the S. S. Material Service, a 246 foot freight barge, plunged to the bottom during a storm in Lake Michigan, two miles off the Chicago port.

Among those missing is Captain Charles D. Brown, of Port Huron, Michigan.

Several hours after the disaster, only seven of those on board were safe. The survivors said there was no warning before the low, mastless barge keeled over and was lost in the waves.

A number of them, it was believed, had been caught in their quarters below decks, while the rest sank while trying to swim to shore. The survivors found pieces of the wreckage and they kept them afloat until they were rescued.

First Mate Alf Johnson, who swam unaided to a light house more than a mile away and was saved by the keeper when about to sink from exhaustion, told the gripping tale of his experience. He said "he was on watch with Captain Brown. Of course the waves were running heavy. The boat suddenly listed and then sank without further warning. He grabbed at the captain, but another lurch pulled him apart, and he was thrown into the water."

"Three were more swimming all around me, and I couldn't find anything to grab on to, so I struck out for shore."

"I must have been swimming a couple of hours when I looked up and I saw the lighthouse was before me. I was about done for, but managing to get out a yell or two, and the keeper and his assistant came out with a line."

The barge, enroute to South Chicago, when the tragedy overtook her, was loaded with about two thousand tons of sand and gravel and it was running in the water even lower than normally. Coast guardsmen expressed the belief that a high wave shifted the cargo.

Mrs. Kohl is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania with the class of 1931. While at that institution she was soloist of the glee club there for four years, and also president of the group. Mrs. Kohl has also appeared as soloist with the Pennsylvania Symphony Orchestra, the Brahms Chorus of Philadelphia and the Reading Choral Society. She was also the leading soprano of the Philadelphia Light Opera Company. Last April she was awarded an opera scholarship to the Curtis Institute of Music in Philadelphia.

Mrs. Kohl will appear as guest soloist in Convention Hall, Cape May, Sunday, August 16.

Mr. Kohl, who is well known here, served as a member of Common Council from the First Ward for about two years but resigned some months ago. He is a graduate of the Kutztown State Teachers College, Franklin and Marshall College and the University of Pennsylvania. After his graduation from Normal School he taught school here for three years. He played baseball as a pitcher and outfielder for a number of years with some of the local teams. He was also active in the Union Fire Company.

STATEMENT ON RELIEF

By Ellwood J. Turner
(Republican Representative, Delaware County)

Mr. Speaker, I think the time has arrived when everyone should clearly realize that while an agreement has been reached upon a sum of $45,000,000 as the appropriation to carry unemployment relief to the end of next January, there is neither need nor excuse for this Assembly imposing that amount of new taxes upon the people of this State.

I will state that fact in another way and say that the Democratic majority in this House can stand out for that unnecessary sum of new taxes, only by openly stultifying the Governor of Pennsylvania in respect of one of the most important promises with which he persuaded the people of this State to elect him Chief Executive.

So conclusively has the Governor, time and again, demonstrated his absolute control over the Democratic majority in this House, that the situation resolves itself into this: That demand by the Governor that his supporters in this House vote to load $45,000,000 of new and additional taxes upon the people of this State, is equivalent to open confession by him that one of the most important pledges made by him during his campaign was worthless then, and that he has no intention of attempting to fulfill it now.

I call your attention to the fact that time and again throughout his campaign, in practically every county of Pennsylvania, Mr. Earle pledged the voters of this State that, if elected, he would reduce the normal or ordinary costs of government in this Commonwealth by 25%. He repeated, reiterated and dwelt upon that promise. It was emphatic and without qualification.

I say to his supporters in this House that the time has arrived for him to make good, and the time is here for them to help him make good. In a spirit of charity, and guided by my own common sense, I would not ask that he attempt to carry out the whole of his characteristically exorbitant estimate. But if he and his followers in this body would do that job only in part; if, say, they gave only a two-fifths demonstration of sincerity, it would be a godsend to the overburdened taxpayers of this Commonwealth.

The facts of the situation are that the General Fund Appropriations for the biennium of 1933 to 1935 totaled $193,300,000 in round numbers. If we deduct Unemployment Relief, Mothers' Assistance, State and School Employees' Retirement Fund, and interest and sinking fund requirements, the cost of operation of the State Government, exclusive of highways and other special funds, was $133,347,321.30.

Twenty-five per cent of this amount would be $33,339,107.10. The General Fund Appropriation for 1935 was $246,874,386.71. If we again deduct Unemployment Relief, Mothers' Assistance, Old Age Assistance, Pensions for the Blind, State and School Employees' Retirement and interest and sinking fund requirements, the cost of operation of the State Government, on the same basis as 1933 to 1935, would be $138,328,164.21.

We find, therefore, that expenditures for the first biennium of the Earle Administration are approximately $5,000,000 greater than the appropriation for 1933 to 1935 biennium, which, if added to the

THATCHER PLEADS FOR PIONEERS' FAITH

Bucks County Attorney is the Speaker at Moyer-Myers
Reunion

MUST SOLVE PROBLEMS

PERKASIE, July 29—"We are a common, ordinary people and we are on a common ground. We, here in this country, have the same problems to be solved, and whether our ancestors came on the Mayflower or whether we came here by steamer fairly recently, we must keep the boat from sinking and we must assist in the solving of the nation's perplexing problems."

These statements characterized an address given before the 32nd annual reunion of the Moyer-Myers family on Saturday in Perkasia Park by Mark Thatcher, prominent member of the Bucks County Bar.

Attendance this year was not as large as in previous years, but a well balanced program kept those in attendance busy all day. The main address to the gathering by Mr. Thatcher was preceded by a program including the awarding of three prizes and several vocal solos. The program was under the supervision of the president, Dr. A. L. Myers of Philadelphia.

Other significant statements made by Mr. Thatcher included: "Our forefathers had the courage and stamina to build this great nation with a solid foundation and today we must carry on where they left off."

Mr. Thatcher also pointed out that many of the great achievements of this country have been made by persons of humble birth and therefore this should act as an incentive to every citizen in the country.

The speaker praised the work of our ancestors in their noble deeds and then put the question as to what the present age is going to do to carry on. He pointed out that many want a new form of government because of the apparent inefficiency of our present system, but he also said that if the people of the country cannot solve the questions of the hour how can they expect the government to do it.

"If people would co-operate as they did during the World War, all of this nation's social, moral and financial problems would be solved. This needs united co-operation throughout the entire country. This nation needs labor, commerce and a solid financial framework, all of which are essential to the people and their needs call for them."

Mr. Thatcher closed with the challenge, "Try to get from the lives of your ancestors some of that same courage, faith, determination and power and you will be settling the problems and difficulties of this age just as our pioneer forefathers solved their difficulties in the early days of our nation."

NEWPORTVILLE SCOUTS RETURN FROM BUCCOU

Enjoyed a Week of Scouting
Adventure in Mountains of New Jersey

WERE USEFUL AT CAMP

NEWPORTVILLE, July 29—Scouts from Newportville returned from Buccou Camps, the Bucks County Boy Scout Camp, on Sunday. They spent a week of Scouting adventure in the mountains of upper New Jersey. The Troop was under the leadership of Assistant Scoutmaster Irwin Brambley. With Mr. Brambley there were John Flanagan, George Muth and Joseph Hadfield. The Newportville boys lived at the Stockade, one of the eight troop sites at Buccou Camp. It has rustic shacks made by the Scouts from the neighboring woods abounding in chestnut that was killed by the blight a number of years ago, but sound and ideal for the purposes of making shacks.

The week was devoted to many Scouting interests. Each morning was an advancement period for the Scouts to pass second class, first class, and merit badge requirements. Tournaments of volleyball, soft ball, croquet, touch football, and horseshoes occupied the early afternoon. The latter part of the afternoon was devoted to swimming, canoeing, boating, and a specialty that changed each day. Evenings were spent around the camp fire or at night games with a Camp Show on Wednesday, and the very impressive Ceremonial on Saturday.

Joseph Hadfield was selected by his fellow campers as having been most ideal in living a life of helpful service to his troop mates, the troop, and to Buccou. He was initiated into the Order of the Arrow, of which Mr. Brambley is already a member. George Muth and John Flanagan were selected as Honor Law Scouts for the Ceremonial gathering.

Newportville was very helpful in completing the construction of one of the Stockade shacks on which Bristol No. 7 did considerable work the week they were in camp. Assistant Scoutmaster Irwin Brambley is staying a second week at Buccou to assist in building of a second 8x10 rustic shack that will house four campers. The shacks are in units of four, and four of them will take care of the average number of Scouts coming from the troops.

Gene Nichols, a former Scout and leader of Bristol No. 1, is serving as Camp Leader for the Scouts from Edgely. The Scouts are at the Forest View site, and comfortably housed. Their site is a compact site with the sleeping accommodations for 14 Scouts and two Leaders, built into one shack having accommodations for eating and cooking. It is the first site at Buccou that has been completely constructed.

Lad, 3, Nearly Overcome By Inhaling Gasoline Fumes

An inquisitive 3-year-old boy had a narrow escape yesterday afternoon when he twice inhaled the fumes from the gasoline tank on an automobile. On both occasions he unscrewed the top from the tank, placed his nose into the opening and took a deep breath. Then he staggered around and aid went to him.

The lad, Robert Cole, Washington street, was just looking around yesterday afternoon, for something to do. He went to his father's car, unscrewed the cap off the gasoline tank, stuck in his nose and breathed deeply. Then he put the cap back.

Evidently the child was attracted by the odor of the gasoline and he went back to the car and again took over the tank cover, put his nose to the opening and inhaled the fumes.

A neighbor, Mrs. Jennie Hall, saw the lad staggering and Miss Elizabeth Mariner, passing by, also saw the child acting peculiarly. He was placed on a nearby porch and revived.

Madrid Not Surrendered

By H. R. Knickerbocker
L. N. S. Staff Correspondent
(Copyright, I. N. S.)

Northern Spanish Rebel Headquarters, Burgos, July 29—Madrid is no longer surrounded on all sides by rebel troops, but has access to the outside world by way of Valencia, the official spokesman for General Emilio Mola, rebel commander in chief, admitted to the International News Service today.

This is the first admission on this side of the front that the capital is not cut off from the supplies of food and fuel. It would be premature to prophesy central factors, but this news would appear to be the most important since the army revolted in every part of Spain nearly two weeks ago, against the Marxist government.

Troops of cavalry are passing my window on the way to the front. Staff cars dash up to General Mola's headquarters, just opposite my room, and discharge officers, and roar away with dispatches.

The war is in full swing, and fighting is going on in hundreds of places, but a series of studies of the map revealed there has been very little change in the front since the initial impetus of the revolt was started a week ago. The rebels then took full control of nearly two-thirds of Spain, and a line curving from Saragossa westward across to Madrid and then southeast to Gibraltar.

Valencia and Catalonia remain in the hands of Madrid as well as the corner including Bilbao and San Sebastian.

J. The Parkers are wanted in Brooklyn to face an indictment charging them with kidnapping and assault upon Paul H. Wendel, former Trenton lawyer.

MAN HELD FOR COURT ON STEALING CHARGE

Police Say Prisoner's Capture
Solves Robbery of Tourist
Automobiles

BAIL IS SET AT $1,000.00

MORRISVILLE, July 29—Charged with stealing gasoline, clothing and other articles from automobiles of motorists who have been stopping at tourist homes here, Andrew Savoko, 27, of East Maple Avenue, and Stephen Harter, 19, of the Lincoln Highway, were both held for action of the Bucks County Grand Jury when arraigned yesterday afternoon before Justice of the Peace Neal Nolan.

Savoko's bail was set at $1,000, and Harter's at $300. According to testimony of the police Savoko is wanted in New York State on similar charges, and also served time in Rahway, Mercer County Workhouse and Mercer County Jail. It is alleged he once broke out of Mercer Jail. Savoko readily admitted his police record and exonerated Harter from taking any part in the robberies. He pleaded non vult to the charges and asked whether there were no other indictments against him.

The police found a man's coat and slacks, bathing suit, towels, cigarette case, camera, fishing rod, fountain pens and flashlights at Savoko's boarding house and most of the loot has been identified as that stolen from automobiles here. The police also say that about 60 gallons of gasoline was stolen from cars of tourists.

Owners of tourist homes here have complained to the police that gasoline was being drained from the tanks of cars of tourists stopping overnight and that other cars were broken open and the contents stolen. Chief of Police Albert Cooper began an investigation and after shadowing Savoko's car for some time, obtained a search warrant and found the loot at his boarding house.

MAN DIES AFTER FALL OF 20 FEET AT BOILER PLANT

Michael Tisone, 47, Father of Five Children, Fatally Injured

FELL OFF A CRANE

May Have Touched Live Wire
Which Carries 440
Volts

A Bristol man, Michael Tisone, 47, 315 Grand avenue, died early this morning in the Harriman Hospital as the result of injuries sustained in a 20-foot fall at the plant of the Pacific Steel Boiler Corporation, Green Lane, where he was employed in the foundry room.

Tisone, father of five children, was working on top of a crane runway and is said to have asked that the 440-volt current be turned off. The switchbox is said to have been in his direct line of vision, and it is believed that he either failed to look in the direction of the box, or failed to wait until one of the men working on the ground had cut the power.

It is believed that Tisone touched the bare wire and then dropped 20 feet to the ground, striking his head on a large cask. The injuries suffered by the man, who weighed well over 200 pounds, included severe lacerations of the head and a possible fractured skull.

A pulmotor was applied at the hospital which he entered at 12.40 this morning, but efforts to revive him failed and he died one hour later.

Tisone had been employed at the steel plant since June. He also worked there last summer. His work consisted of cleaning the floors and preparing the molds for the following morning. He was employed three nights a week.

Tisone is survived by his wife, Caroline, and five children, Antoinette, 23; Lewis, 19; Anthony, 17; John, 10; and Julia, 6. Plans for burial have not as yet been completed.

John Pieters, manager at the Pacific Steel Boiler Corporation, said that a thorough investigation is being made.

EXCESSIVE AMBITION

Can there be such a thing as too much ambition? We exhort the young folks to be go-getters. We tell them that push and determination will elevate them to great heights. They are fed with a propaganda of success stories. They see visions of themselves as captains of industry and heads of corporations. Then when these youngsters get out in the cold world with these thoughts, and flounder around buffeted from one misadventure to another, what happens to their happy dreams? They discover obstacles that the success stories forgot to mention. The ups and downs of trade, the competition of smart rivals, the dishonesty of some—these and other fates lie in store for them. The climb up the ladder, what a toilsome and hazardous ascent it is!

Some of these youngsters decline to accept substantial chances around home, because they see no promotion therefrom to high position. They throw away time and money on some more ambitious attempt, they roam around the country seeking large opportunities, and often fall far behind those who started with modest aims.

The world does not need so many big bosses. We have too many competing for too few of those high jobs. For every manager in the industries, many must be subordinates and take lesser positions.

Of course ambition is one of the finest of qualities. We must cultivate it and teach it to the youngsters. But do not put hopes too lofty in peoples' minds that they will butt their heads against impossible walls. Let us simply say that energy, mental effort, and fidelity are always rewarded.

OVER THE WORLD'S TOP

Just how seriously the scientific mind is setting itself to find short cuts between distant parts of the world may not be revealed in the assertion that a plan is being developed to drop a party of British and German scientists at the North Pole from a Zeppelin and to leave them for a year on the ice cap to study the whole cycle of Arctic weather. The information comes from London.

The project, as yet in a preliminary stage, calls for the Graf Zeppelin to convey the men and supplies to the top of the world next spring and to return for them the following spring. In the interim the scientists would chart weather cycles and study fog conditions, with the idea of establishing air routes over the pole to connect Europe, Asia and the west coast of America.

Man has always been reaching out for something not in his possession. Even Columbus when he discovered America was looking for a short cut to the East Indies. The fascination of finding a northwest passage by way of the Arctic has taken many adventurous spirits into the frozen waters of the Far North. So why shouldn't aviation be concerned with short cuts now when it offers not far-removed prospects of a 'round-the-world service.

The London Dispatch conveying this information declares the plan has the approval of German and British aviation companies, and the aid of the Royal Geographic Society has been enlisted.

promised 25% saving, makes $38,000,000, which would have been saved if the Governor had kept his promises of reducing the cost of Government.

Now, in perfect candor, I do not believe that the cost of government can be reduced by the aforesaid 25%. But the Governor, in his ignorance of our government and its operation, made that promise, which, to date has had no more value than the usual New Deal promise.

With the figure for Unemployment Relief set at $45,000,000 it will require a total of approximately $50,000,000 to meet the appropriation liabilities of this Special Session. I repeat, however, that there is neither need nor excuse for further burdening the people of Pennsylvania with the total of this amount in new taxes.

In the Special Session of 1932 in an identical situation Governor Pinchot agreed with the Legislature upon a reduction of over $13,000,000 in the appropriations made at the 1933 Session. Governor Earle certainly ought to be able to make a reduction of $10,000,000 in the cost of State Government, which is but a small part of the $33,000,000-plus which he promised to save.

Those who are familiar with the revenues of the State believe that in view of the large increase in the amount collected from the cigarette tax, over and above that estimated; plus increased business in the State Liquor Stores; and a material increase in the corporation tax by reason of removal of the manufacturer's exemption; a conservative estimate of increased revenues over the amount estimated for the biennium will be $15,000,000.

The Administration is contending that the revenues will not reach the amount estimated, but they are not distinguishing as between the present record of collections and the actual amounts which should be collected. The Revenue Department is not promptly and efficiently settling taxes, and that fact is pretty well known. Mainly, I think, this is caused by the disrupted condition of the Department, which has had three Secretaries in the space of a year, and because of dismissals of experienced employees whose places have been taken by inexperienced political appointees.

I contend that the taxpayers of Pennsylvania should not be called upon to pay for the wrong guesses and political inefficiency of the Democratic Administration. I believe it is the clear duty of the Governor to shake-up the Department and demand action, which can be secured by recalling to service those experienced employees, and speeding up settlements.

If this is not done, then, as predicted by the Pennsylvania Economic Council, we may end the biennium with a shortage of as much as $33,000,000. Such a breakdown in collections will mean the stoppage of subsidies to schools, hospitals, appropriations for mothers' assistance, aged, blind and others. No misstatement of the situation can successfully becloud the fact that the sole responsibility rests upon Governor Earle. The Revenue Department is under his control.

While, in the light of the facts I have stated, it seems that it will be necessary to levy approximately $25,000,000 in new taxes to meet the balance required, it should be said again—and then again and again—that the taxpayers of Pennsylvania could also have been relieved of this entire amount, had the Federal Administration kept its promises to pay; and had the Governor battled zealously for the payment of moneys due Pennsylvania for relief, instead of spending his time out over the State defaming those who have been fighting valiantly in the interests of the people of this Commonwealth.

Vandenberg Says Landon Victory Is A Certainty

tical progressive who is in the habit of doing things."

"Franklin Roosevelt, however good he may be as a starter, is a poor finisher," he added.

Pinchot said he thought Governor Landon had a "fair chance" of carrying Pennsylvania. He said he was pleased that the Governor is making his next speech in Pennsylvania.

Pinchot said that all that he charged months ago concerning politics in WPA in Pennsylvania is still true.

"The facts are gradually coming to light and public opinion is steadily being aroused," he asserted.

Mrs. Pinchot refused to talk for publication tonight.

Asked what he thought was the major issue of the campaign, Vandenberg said:

"I don't think there is one major issue. This campaign is distinctive in that it has a number of major issues, each of which is of great interest to some large group of the electorate.

"For example, there are three or four million persons to whom civil service is the most important feature of the Government. When that group compares Governor Landon's message to the Republican National Convention on civil service with President Roosevelt's counterfeit civil service order of the other day, I feel certain that they will support Governor Landon. The President's order is merely a beautiful scheme to maintain in office Mr. Farley's appointees, who were appointed without competitive examination.

"There are three or four million persons to whom the reciprocal trade treaties are the paramount issue, particularly along the Canadian and Mexican borders. When they find Landon against, and the Roosevelt Administration responsible for, the invasion of goods from abroad as a result of these treaties, their votes will go to Landon.

"Then there is relief, obviously the paramount issue to perhaps 25,000,000 persons with I don't know how many votes. Personally, I have no idea that all these votes will be for the Roosevelt Administration's program.

"Under the Roosevelt program, a privileged class has grown up within relief. A WPA worker may receive $85 a month, while his next-door neighbor on straight relief may get only $20. Many on relief are beginning to realize also that the public credit must be preserved or there will be nothing for them.

"Then there are the little business men, who object to the NRA or anything like it, which they believe the Roosevelt Administration, if continued in office, would recreate.

"There is the much larger business group of all classes which regards a balanced budget as the paramount issue. They find no promise of a balanced budget in anything the Roosevelt Administration is doing.

"There are 5,000,000 Americans who believe that maintenance of the Constitution is the most living, throbbing, vital issue since the Republic came into existence.

"Add up those who will support Governor Landon among all these groups and you have a majority for him. That's why I think Landon will be elected."

Elaborating on the tariff issue, Senator Vandenberg said that there was "absurdity in agricultural imports last year representing the production of 30 million acres." He said it was a paradox to open 30 million acres of American consumption to foreign farmers while eliminating millions of American acres from production.

Vandenberg agreed that some groups, including the automobile manufacturers, had gained advantage from the reciprocal trade agreements.

"But it is a temporary advantage. I don't think it's permanent," he added.

Former Governor and Mrs. Pinchot arrived early last evening. They went to the executive mansion for dinner and will remain over until tomorrow. Mr. Pinchot was here a few weeks before the Republican National Convention.

ST. ANN'S MOVES INTO SECOND PLACE TIE

BRISTOL TWILIGHT LEAGUE

Schedule for tonight—
ODD FELLOWS vs. THIRD WARD
(Landreth's field)

Bunching their hits early in the tilt, the St. Ann's A. A. team moved into a deadlock with the Odd Fellows for second place in the Bristol Twilight League loop by downing the Jefferson A. C., 6-4, last night on Landreth's diamond. It was the fifth straight triumph for the Saints.

Three hits and two passes, one of the hits being a double by Angelo, gave the Purple and Gold nine three markers in the first while in the second, Mike DeRisi doubled with two runners on the sacks to account for two more runs. A triple by Eddie Gaffney with Tony Angelo on base gave the winners their final tally in the fifth.

Charlie Whyno blanked the Mules for three frames but was nicked for a run in the fourth and a trio in the fourth when the Mules rallied and made four hits, three being consecutive. On Narcisi's hit, Locke was out at the plate, Avella to Angelo, to end the uprising.

Ralph Narcisi was the losing moundsman while the winner was Whyno. Both hurlers finished the game with Narcisi allowing the winners nine hits, one less than Whyno. St. Ann's played better defensive ball than the Mules.

PHILA. BOXERS SIDE-STEP MATCH WITH DELIA

To match Vince Delia, of the St. Ann's boxing team, is quite a job for Matchmaker Patsey Moffo, who is arranging the boxing show to be conducted by the St. Ann's Athletic Association in its arena, Monday night.

Fighters from Philadelphia have all heard of the prowess of the Bristol southpaw and are always evading the issue when Moffo speaks of a match for him. Since Delia beat Morris Bracey in the last show he is having quite a time trying to secure a bout. But Moffo has finally signed him up and his opponent is none other than Benny Lamonica, Mason, classed as one of the best 120-pounders in amateur boxing today.

Lamonica seems to be handing them all lickings in the Philadelphia fighting palaces. He is a suitable foe for Delia and fans will be treated to a real bout when these two youngsters start their firing.

Moffo has also secured a bout for Angelo "Marshall" Mocer, St. Ann's, who is fast developing into a real star. Mocer's bout with Herman Matteo in the last shows was a bang-up affair from start to finish and only the fact that Matteo had the experience on the local boy gave him the decision. Johnny Porter, Kensington, is the foe for the St. Ann's novice.

MEDWICK AND P. WANER SET HITTING PACE

NEW YORK, July 29—(INS)—There is base hit music in the bludgeons of Joe Medwick and Paul Waner again this season, with echoes from the distant fences, as the Ducky-Wucky vegetable man of the Cardinals and Big Poison of the Pirates come down the stretch in a close two-man National league batting championship race.

If Medwick outlasts his one rival, he will be champion for the first time, while to Waner ultimate victory simply would be repetition of an old story, incidentally, bringing the title to Pittsburgh for the third straight time.

Waner first won the championship in 1927, his second year in the majors, with an average of .350. He came back to leadership in 1934 with .362, then dropped to .321 last season, when Arky Vaughan, his short-stopping team-mate, compiled a gaudy .385.

In second at the end of last season was Medwick, now making it a consistent performance over a two-year stretch, while Vaughan apparently is completely out of the race along with all the rest.

Baxter Jordan of the Boston Bees has been close from time to time this season but seems now to be thoroughly beaten off. Bill Terry of the Giants is closer still, but is out of the lineup more often than in on account of a bad leg and won't play enough games to figure in the championship.

With a Pirate and a Cardinal out in front, the race is running true to tradition. Since 1900 Pittsburgh has held the title 12 times and St. Louis eight with all the rest of the clubs in the league dividing up the other 15 seasons.

Hans Wagner started it for the Bucs in 1900 and won eight times before he began to slip. Waner and Vaughan have carried on in recent years.

Rogers Hornsby helped to give the Cards a major share in honors by winning six times, while at St. Louis, Burdett preceded him and Chick Hafey and Jim Bottomley came along after him.

This season about .360 should be enough to win for either Waner or Medwick. While that would be well above championship class in some past seasons, it still would be far below the tops.

Hornsby set a mark that probably never will be broken when he compiled his amazing .424 in 1924, topping even Ty Cobb's .420, the American league record set in 1911, and tied by George Sisler in 1922.

Going back still further into the records, you find that a gent named Duffy, who was with Boston in 1894, before the American league was organized, batted a very neat .438, which is one the boys can keep right on shooting at.

Report Fire On Vessel

San Francisco, Cal., July 29—The Norwegian freighter, Mitwo, a 3,380-ton vessel, with a crew of 35 aboard, flashed a distress signal today, reporting a fire raging in her No. 1 hold. The freighter gave her position as 100 miles off the coast, due west of Monterey, Calif., and asked for immediate assistance. Two Coast Guard cutters were speeded to her aid.

Warn of Air Attack

London, July 29—Warning of an impending rebel aerial attack was given today in a request by commander Francisco Franco, insurgent Spanish leader, that government warships in the Mediterranean have kept clear of Spanish government vessels. He asked this staff in order that British forces "may avoid an attack by my aircraft."

Million Dollar Fire Rages

Long Beach, N. Y., July 29—A million dollar fire razed an entire block of concessionaire property, gutting the Castle Theatre, and for a while threatening the west end of this resort town today.

But volunteer firemen, with the hazardous condition of low water Sunday, pressure had the flames under control in half an hour.

Joins Rebel Army

Cannes, France, July 29—Don Carlos de Bourbon, member of the former Spanish royal house, and close associate of ex-King Alfonso, left France today to join the rebel army in Spain. His object, it is said, is to "protect the interests of the royal family."

TULLYTOWN

Mr. and Mrs. George Jacobs and daughter, Evelyn, Bristol, were visitors at the home of Mrs. John Polak, Sunday.

Track's Biggest Figure

By BURNLEY

"Tiny Jack" Torrance, 350 pounds light, is not exactly fit as a fiddle and ready for shot-putting. This wisp of a lad, who must eat a couple of steers for breakfast, holds the world's shot-put record of 57 feet one inch, but you wouldn't think it from seeing him toss the iron pellet these days.

It seems that this over-stuffed youth has a lame shoulder, which, it is alleged, handicapped him mightily in the Olympic try-outs, when he was unable to do better than a puny heave of almost 52 feet.

A toss of that distance is not going to win at Berlin, my hearties—not with the Germans flinging the heavy nut 54 feet and over. No sir, Master Torrance will have to pull himself together or he will lose a lot of prestige. As a matter of fact, what this human freight car needs to lose is a lot of poundage as Lawson Robertson claimed before sailing that Baby Jack was a mere 65 pounds overweight.

This is really a big problem, my friends, and it won't do to take it in a spirit of levity. If the gigantic Mr. Torrance allows himself to be beaten by the comparatively emaciated foreigners, it will be a terrific blow to the beef trust—Heaven forbid.
